The Coin Collector seems to have attracted a following all of its own.

While I may enjoy writing items for The Coin Collector, and certainly like receiving nice letters from readers, what makes continued publication possible is our Direct Sales Department receiving orders from you (yes, you). Gail Watson and Beth Piper are at the other end of the telephone line, and would be delighted to reserve that 1882-CC Morgan dollar, or scarce gold $20, or anything else that catches your eye.

Your order is your "vote" for more issues of The Coin Collector.

Meanwhile, we'll continue to do our part here. We're continually buying coins and collections. It may come as a surprise to learn that we often have to look at many coins to buy just one! Yes, we are "fussy." All of this is a lot of work for me and 37 other staffers. Then comes the fun. Like writing The Coin Collector.

Two of my favorite series are commemoratives and silver dollars. As you may know, I've written books on both during the past few years.

Commemoratives have the advantage of being of different designs, or if they are part of a long series, having (usually) low mintages. There is something fascinating about spending a few minutes looking at a commemorative coin under, say, 8-power magnification, and studying its design details. Nearly every commemorative has its own history—sometimes bizarre. I could probably get up on a soapbox and expound for 15 minutes on the Oregon Trail, Boone, or Elgin half dollars, to mention just three of many.

Morgan silver dollars have the advantage of offering a "lot of coin for little money." Every time we get a chance to buy Carson City dollars (minted 1878-1893), we do so, providing they are choice. In this issue, check our Carson City listing.

I like Peace dollars, too. Some issues, particularly those with mintmarks, seem to be to be very cheap. Recently, there has been a flurry of orders for these, so our clients must agree.

Once again, your order is your "vote" to keep The Coin Collector coming your way. Pick up the phone and call us today! See you in next issue!

Sincerely,

Done

The Smile of the Specialist!

A Talk With Keith Zaner

The other day I had a long conversation with Keith Zaner, who writes the weekly "Trends" column for Coin World. At first, we talked about the large specialized collection of half dimes which we catalogued and sold as part of our Sunderland Sale.

Keith noticed that many of the half dimes, particularly the New Orleans Mint varieties, brought well over current "Trends" listings and, in fact, broke into new pricing ground.

While I like to think that the nice cataloguing by Frank Van Valen and Andy Pollock, and the nice presentation in a catalogue that was a graphic art masterpiece (again, my opinion, admittedly somewhat biased), the truth is that the half dimes themselves certainly played a very important part in the scenario, as the quality and breath of the collection was superb. Beyond that, the coins were showcased in a very nice catalogue, like a diamond in a fine setting.

The Brilliant Collection

Over the years we have catalogued and sold many specialized collections. You may remember our James Brilliant Collection of 1992, which featured a carefully-gathered cabinet of early United States half dollars beginning with the first year of issue, 1794. When the dust settled after the sale, price guides had to be re-written. I have noticed time and again that specialized collections, when marketed, act as a magnet for bidders.

The specialist has many advantages, in my opinion. First of all, he or she can narrow his focus to a small area of numismatics, and become an expert in that area. For example, client W.W. likes Carson City silver and gold coins, (continued on page 4)

To what commemorative half dollar does this picture have a connection? We wouldn't have known if we hadn't read the caption on the back of this image, published by Northeast Historic Film, Bucksport, Maine, a motion picture museum. It is a still from a film taken in 1920 in connection with the Maine centennial observation, which also furnished the occasion for issuing half dollars.

We offer an attractive and interesting selection of coins of this denomination, from early issues through the Peace series. Along the way are many prime rarities and other notable pieces.

Draped Bust Dollars

1797 BB-72. 9 x 7 Stars. Small Letters. VF-25. Traditionally, the 1797 dollar has been considered to be one of the key dates of the series. However, recent research reveals that the 1796 is in about the same category rarity-wise 1799 BB-159, B-3.8 x 5 Stars. VF-35 (ANACS Cache).
The style with the obverse stars arranged eight left and five right (instead of the normal seven left and six right) is, arguably, the most fascinating variety of the 1799 date. Examples are fairly elusive in all grades
1800 BB-194. Dotted Date. EF-40 (PCGS). Nicely struck. Much original mint lustre still remains. The dotted date feature is from some interesting die flaws in the date area of the coin; these appear as tiny raised "islands."

1858 Proof-63 (PCGS). An outstanding coin from an aesthetic viewpoint. Attractive light toning. One of the finest we have ever seen of this famous rarity. The 1858 stands alone as the single Philadelphia Mint Liberty Seated dollar struck only in Proof finish; no examples were ever made for circulation

Morgan Dollars

Morgan dollars are the most popular series in 19th century American numismatics. Check our listings carefully. If you are a Morgan dollar specialist, or want to become one, make us your headquarters for quality and value. Try us for your first order, and you'll come back again and again! A good way to get started is to pick a grade you like for its combination of quality and price-say, MS-63 or MS-64-and buy as many different dates as you can afford. Later, you can buy the rarer issues in lesser grades if desired. 1878 8 Tailfeathers. MS-63. 89.00

Collectors Comments

Ken Bressett and The Coin Collector

The following from Kenneth E. Bressett, vice-president of the ANA and editor of the Guide Book of U.S. Coins:

Dear Dave:

Your new publication, The Coin Collector, came this week. What a great idea. It sure looks professional and very inviting for readers. I hope that it is tremendously successful for you.

I'm going to follow your advice and save this first edition. You have quite a following for your published works now, and this will probably be in heavy demand in years to come, as are many of your other earlier works.

Likes It

I think The Coin Collector is fantastic. I faxed your Publications Department a copy of the coupon for future issues, because I didn't want to fill out the coupon as I want to preserve the copy for my collection. I also pre-ordered your latest four "Companion" series, which I look forward to getting as soon as they are published.

Sincerely, C.C.H.

United States Patterns and Related

Issues, by Andrew W. Pollock III. Foreword by Q. David Bowers.

This book, long awaited by the collecting fraternity, completely updates and revises the U.S. pattern coin series, giving market values (an extensive reporting of auction prices), historical information, die variety details, and rarity ratings.

This great study brings to light many facts, including that numerous patterns of which several dozen pieces were thought to exist are far rarer than thatsometimes so rare that only one or two have appeared on the market in recent decades.

while client H.L. concentrates on assembling what by this time may be the finest display of Carson City gold in existence. Both men enjoy reading about the history of the Carson City Mint, have studied the availability (or lack thereof) and price structure of what they are seeking. In a word, they have become Carson City Mint experts.

Another client, W.S., enjoys trade dollars (I confess that I, too, have a weakness for this 1873-1885 series). Not only does he collect them by date and mint, such as 1873, 1873-CC, 1873-S, 1874, 1874-CC, and on down the line, but he also desires mintmark differences (CC mintmark large, small, or widely spaced, for example), die doubling, date repunching, etc.

John Adams, principal of the wellknown securities firm of Adams, Harkness & Hill, thought large cents bearing the date 1794 were fascinating, and in time assembled the most memorable collection of these ever put together. You may remember the special catalogue we devoted to it in 1984.

How to Specialize

There are many ways to form a specialized collection. The Guide Book of U.S. Coins is a good place to browse through, and make up a "wish list." In this way you can determine how many coins are available in a given collection, what grades they normally are found in, and how much they cost. Once you zero in on a specialty, then its all the better if there are specialized books available (such as Sheldon on early cents, Newcomb on later large cents, Snow on Indian cents, Overton on half dollars, etc.).

Here are some across-the-board ideas of things that appeal to me. Your list of favorites might be different:

- ◆ 1873-1878 trade dollars. One of each business strike in, say, EF-40 to MS-60 grade.
- ◆ A collection of 1837-dated Hard Times tokens with "Miss Liberty" obverses in imitation of large cents.
- Date and mintmark collections of "long series" among commemorative halves, such as 1926-1939 Oregon Trail, 1934-1938 Boone, 1946-1954 Booker T. Washington and Carver-Washington.
- ◆ One of each Carson City Mint silver dollar in the Morgan series, 1878 to 1893.
- ◆ A date and mintmark set of Barber halfdollars 1892-1916 in MS-63 grade.
- ◆ One of each date and Guide Booklisted variety of "middle date" large cent, from 1816 through 1839.
- ◆ One of each specialized die variety of large cent of the Randall Hoard years, 1816 to 1820.
- ◆ One of each business strike PLUS one of each Proof Liberty Head nickel, 1883-1912.

There are probably 1,001 or more specialties in numismatics. Think ful Accumulator."

Because You Asked

J.S.D. Asks: Recently, a couple of friends and I were discussing various aspects of numismatics, and your name came up. The interesting point was that none of us knew your first name. You always use your first initial, "Q". We then spent a considerable amount of time trying to come up with possibilities for your first name; Sixteen of Quaestor, Quaker, Quantrill, Quarlo, Quebec, Quemoy, Quentin, Quetta, Quezon, Quiller, Quincy, Quinella, Quinlin, Quintilian, Quontell, and Quonset.

Please give us, and all of your fans, the information we really wish to know, Dave. What is your first name?

QDB Answers: The Qis for Quentin, my father's first name. As there was already one Quentin in the house, it was logical to call me by my middle name, David.

K.M. Asks: Thank you for your outstanding book on silver dollars, which I have read from cover to cover. My one comment is that the Syllabus of Errors you mention on page 2468 of Vol. II historically has been considered a forgery; but in the essence of your comments appears to be truth. (I am not Roman Catholic but United Methodist.) Comment please?

CC Answers: During the proofreading stage of the silver dollar book, the late Walter H. Breen made a number of comments, with some of his favorites touching upon religious and political subjects. This particular comment on page 2468 was one of Walter's contributions. In the next edition, I will either delete it or investigate it further! Thank you.

C.S. Asks: Thank you for your recent letter and insight on the decline of the minor silver coinage in the 1878-1891 era. I passed on your letter and documentation to Bill Bugert and look forward to future books from both of you. I had not thought the "Mint focused on silver dollars" theory adequately accounted for the paucity of quarters and halves and the abundance of dimes.

I recall a column you wrote for Coin World about 20 years ago in which you mentioned large cent reverses bearing an obscenity created as a result of (presumably) nineteenth-century pranksters handy with a graver. After reading your column, I remember finding such an example in my own collection!

Recently I examined an EF-45 1843 Liberty Seated half dollar from a mailorder dealer and loved the coin except for one flaw: Liberty's mouth had a decided and pronounced frown. I felt the coin had been re-engraved extremely skillfully—the angle and length of the cut were absolutely perfect so as to transform Gobrecht's slight smile into something entirely different. Upon my returning the coin, the dealer claimed it had nothing more than a normal circulation "hit."

In your experience, have you encountered many nineteenth-century coins altered by pranksters and returned to circulation? And if so, what is the quality of the work?

Thank you for your interest in what is admittedly a highly esoteric area of numismatics.

CC Answers: I am not familiar with the "frown" variety you mention, and do not recall having seen this on any other coins. I do know that trade dollars were often re-engraved to create "potty dollars" by making Miss Liberty appear to be seated on a chamberpot. Certain varieties of Liberty Seated silver dollars exist with "chin whiskers," so called, due to die marks extending down from the chin. 1850-O frequently is seen this way.

I have seen a number of Liberty Seated half dimes of the 1860s engraved in the Orient to remove silver from the folds of Miss Liberty's dress, which was done with a series of cuts. Upon magnification it is quite obvious, but to the casual eye this tooling or removing of silver could easily pass. The object was to regain a significant amount of silver metal by removing slivers from a large number of coins over a period of time.

With regard to the large cent, the alteration of the word CENT on the reverse of a large cent, to appear to be a well-known Anglo Saxon obscenity, I recall that a number of years ago I received a letter from someone who stated that he had such a piece, that it was a mint die error, and that it had great value. In mock seriousness, I wrote to him and suggested that he contact Kenneth E. Bressett, editor of A Guide Book of United States Coins, and to be sure to tell Ken Bressett that I made the recommendation. In due course, Ken received valuable information about this "new variety" and had a good laugh.

the lowest production figures for any legal tender ously, the original distribution of this set was tinged with a good deal of controversy. It seemed that the distributor was "sold out" even before the year 1939 began. However, lo! and behold, he just happened to have some sets on hand a couple years later, at a substantial advance over the original price. This and other fascinating stories are told in the book, "Commemorative Coins of the United States: A Complete Encyclopedia," by Q. David Bowers, available from our Publications Department. In our opinion, the desirability of ownership of ANY commemorative coin can be sharply enhanced by learning of its history. In this particular book, it is often the case that an inexpensive, seemingly "ordinary" coin will have several pages fascinating tale of greed, intrigue, machinations, distortion, misrepresentation, promotion, and more! Indeed, it would be possible to stand on a platform

1936 Cincinnati. MS-65 (PCGS). The Cincinnati issue of 1936 is one of the most interesting of the year, representing as it does a completely contrived issue with no true commemorative purpose. The sponsor was Thomas G. Melish, a well-known Cincinnati numismatist, who desired to create and control the distribution of the issue. Seeking something to commemorate, he hit upon the idea of 1936 being the 50th anniversary of Cincinnati as "a musical center of America." While Cincinnati is indeed well musically endowed, what with various orchestral groups, organizations, and even the founding of the Rudolph Wurlitzer Company (in 1856), no research

Spotlight on Lincoln Cents!

This column gives basic information concerning a particular aspect of numismatics. Save them, and over a period of time you'll become an expert!

BUYING LINCOLN CENTS? These tips will make you money!

1. Cherrypick for quality. If you are buying circulated grades, pick ones with light- or medium-brown surfaces, without roughness. If you are buying Mint State coins, avoid significant spots or oxidation. Go for aesthetic appeal. For example, a lustrous brown MS-63 coin can be more desirable, in our opinion, than a brilliant red MS-65 with spots.

2. In Mint State, among the toughest issues are the Denver and San Francisco (D and S mintmarks) coins issued from 1910 through about 1928. Often, these are lightly struck. This is particularly true of certain of the Denver issues. Believe it or not, a gem Uncirculated specimen of the rare and justifiably prized 1909-S V.D.B. is easier to find than a gem example of the "common" 1915-D!!!

3. The most famous Lincoln cent is the 1909-S V.D.B., due to its low mintage and its position at the beginning of the series. However, finding a Mint State piece will not be difficult. It will be expensive, however, as examples are in great demand. Many pieces have a distinctive yellow-gold toning, due to the peculiar alloy used this year (also with 1909-S Indian cents).

4. The 1955 Doubled Die cent is very scarce in all grades. From about 24,000 (our estimate) released, probably fewer than 3,000 to 5,000 are known today. In Mint State, uncleaned and with frosty, brilliant surfaces, probably fewer than a couple hundred

5. Proof Lincoln cents are of several different finishes: 1. Matte Proofs were minted

1909-1916, and are rare today. Certification is mandatory, as numerous Mint State coins look like Matte Proofs. 2. Satin-finish Proofs were struck in early 1936, from incompletely polished dies. Collectors complained, and the result was: 3. Brilliant mirror-finish Proofs. These were struck from part-way through 1936, to 1942, again from 1950 to 1964, and from 1968 to date. Proofs of all kinds dated before 1968 were made at Philadelphia; later Proofs at San Francisco.

Coin Update

Spring has finally "sprung" here in New Hampshire. Forus, that means the snow melts, buds begin to form, maple sap starts to run, and "mud season" (our fifth season of the year) begins. What would spring in New England be without smoke puffing from quaint little sugar houses located on deeply rutted, muddy, dirt roads. All in all, it is the awakening we look forward to each year!

Auction Highlights

Our March sale of The Whitney P. Sunderland Collection in New York City was also an awakening of sorts. Market prices were strong in all areas withen thusiastic bidding competition for each lot. This three-session event realized over $2 million (all figures quoted here include the 10% buyers fee).

million (all figures quoted here include the 10% buyers fee).

1882 Shield Earring Quarter.

Garnered an astounding $14,300!

Ray Merena had this comment: "It was truly one of the most spirited auctions we have ever conducted. The bidders were very pleased with the material offered and were delighted with their purchases. Several consignors in attendance came up to me after the sale to express their delight with the prices realized. All in all, it was a very fine event."

1949 Booker T. Washington. MS-66 (NGC). . 325.00

Patterns were the focus of frenzied attention as many extremely rare varieties found new owners at spectacular prices. An 1882 Shield Earring quarter, J-1698, in Proof-64 garnered an astounding $14,300. A gem Proof-66 Amazonian half dollar in copper, J-1201, awed onlookers with a winning bid of $20,900.

The popular 1836 Gobrecht dollar variety with name below base, J-58, Proof-62, found a new owner at $22,000, and an example of the celebrated and rarely offered 1879 Schoolgirl $1, J-1608, Proof-62, realized $35,200 after spirited bidding.

The quarter dollar denomination was highlighted by a 1820 quarter, Browning-4, in Proof-64, which was the subject of intense competition, and commanded an impressive $19,800.

U.S. gold coins brought impressive prices including an 1896 quarter eagle in Proof-63 at $5,775, and a lovely 1896 half eagle grading Proof-64, brought a strong $16,500. An attractive 1896 eagle in Proof-63 fetched $13,200 while the $20 denomination was represented by a 1896 double eagle in Proof-64 grade which realized $23,100.

We appreciate all those who participated, either as a buyer or consignor and would like to invite you to partici-

nate as well

Our next bidding opportunity is just around the corner with our sale of the Burke and Clemente Collections to be held in Los Angeles May 27-28, 1994. It will be a spectacular sale with many fine rarities. Catalogues will be available in our next issue of The Coin Collector.

Our next consignment opportunities include our Kingswood Galleries mail bid sale to be held July 12th and our September sale to be held in New York City. If you are considering selling, now may be the most opportune time to realize top market prices for your collection! Please call Dr. Richard "Rick" Bagg (1-800-458-4646) should you be interested in offering your coins as part of any of these upcoming events.

COMMEMORATIVE GOLD COINS

1922 Grant No Star. MS-62 (PCGS). Bright yellow gold. A small copper spot is noted between the L's of DOLLAR. With the general appearance and lustre of a higher grade coin. Very attractive over-1905 Lewis and Clark gold dollar, MS-61 (NGC).1,195.00 1903 Louisiana Purchase gold dollar. McKinley portrait. AU-55 (PCGS). 1916 McKinley gold dollar. MS-63. Fully prooflike obverse. A glittering cameo! ... 1916 McKinley gold dollar, MS-63 (PCGS). Brilliant, frosty, attractive. 1915-S Panama-Pacific gold dollar. MS-63 1926 Sesquicentennial quarter eagle. counterstamp issue; just 9,656 were issued. Kenneth E. Bressett, editor, has stated it will be listed in the 1995 "Guide book." 1993 Madison Bill of Rights, 50¢ and $1. Proof-65. pair in original blue case.

1854 J-160. AU-58 (PCGS). 1858 J-208. Indian. MS-64 (PCGS). A brilliant attractive specimen of the famous 1858 transitional Indian cent. Obverse with Indian head, identical to that used in 1859, except for the date. Reverse with laurel wreath of 1859. Far rarer than the 1856 Flying Eagle cent. Quality-wise, this piece is in the top 10% of the examples we have seen over the years. Look at it, buy it, and it will be a centerpiece in your collection of small cents. 2,400.00 1858 J-213. Indian. Proof-64 (PCGS). Brilliant, and of truly superb quality. Transitional issue with Indian head obverse of '59, dated 1858, and with the Flying Eagle "agricultural wreath" of 1857-1858. One of the nicest we have seen of this highly 1859 J-228, MS-64 (NGC)..... 1873 J-1281. Proof-64 (PCGS). Bailly's obverse depiction of Miss Liberty. Mirror surfaces with gorgeous light lilac iridescent toning. ... 4,950.00

HARD TIMES TOKENS

In the following listing are many interesting and important pieces. Use this opportunity to add to your present collection, or to start one. This series is one of the most fascinating in American numismatics. These tokens, primarily issued circa 1832-1844, are attributed to the book, "Hard Times Tokens", by Lyman H. Low ("Low" numbers), published in 1899, and in more modern times updated in an excellent study, also titled "Hard Times Tokens", by Russell Rulau (the new 4th edition of which is now available from our Publica-
